RE: Registration in the Register of owners and operators of heavy vehicles

We confirm your registration in the Register of owners and operators of heavy vehicles. We also confirm that you are authorized to put into operation or operate a heavy vehicle on a road open to public traffic. The Register Identification Number (RIN) and the safety rating that have been assigned to you are indicated above.

When required, the Commission will send you a form, which will serve to update the information you provided to us at the time of your registration.

Operators who engage in extraprovincial transport, when putting a vehicle into operation in the rest of Canada, should keep a document in their vehicle attesting to their registration in Québec, so that it can be presented as needed during a roadside check. To obtain this attestation free of charge, access the site at www.ctq.gouv.qc.ca and select the option that allows you to consult your safety rating. You can then print a record attesting to your registration.

For additional information on this matter, you can contact Customer Service, mentioning your Register Identification Number (RIN).
